

Grind coffee in style – Introducing GRAEF's new CM8000 Premium Coffee Grinder Series in trendy colors

(Arnsberg, January 2024) The art of enjoying coffee begins with its preparation. The method we choose plays a crucial role in the flavor and intensity of this beloved beverage. For the freshest taste, coffee beans should be ground just before brewing. With its innovative CM8000 Premium Coffee Grinder Series, traditional German brand GRAEF provides the perfect helpers for this purpose. The new grinders not only boast a high-quality metal housing and powerful performance but also stand out as a visual highlight in any kitchen. They are available in Peach Fuzz, the Pantone color of the year, serene Pistachio and Dipped Sand, as well as classic Matte Black.

Enhanced anti-static feature for clean, residue-free grinding

For many of us, a freshly brewed cup of coffee is a morning must-have. With its clever features, the versatile CM8000 series makes starting our day exceptionally easy. An improved anti-static component and minimal retention area (also known as dead space) ensure clean, residue-free grinding for completely fresh grounds every time. In addition to the detachable 350-gram bean hopper with a sliding lid, a 75-gram single-dose bean container is available, allowing java lovers to grind just the right amount of beans for a single cup. This helps maintain the freshness and quality of the ground coffee. Furthermore, a slow-rotating stainless steel conical burr grinder with 40 grind settings provides the optimal grind size for any brewing method.

Clear view with LED-lit work area

LED lighting ensures a clear view of the grinding process. The improved visibility allows home baristas to more easily control grind size and achieve the desired texture. Thanks to the grind-on-demand function, the precise amount of fresh grounds needed is dispensed into the portafilter or other containers each time, ensuring ultimate freshness. The precisely adjustable burr assembly and the tamping mat are removable, making cleaning effortless. With a grounds container that holds up to 12 cups' worth of filter coffee, the CM8000 series is perfect for social gatherings or daily office use. Available in the stylish colors Peach Fuzz, Pistachio, Dipped Sand, and Matte Black, the CM8000 series seamlessly combines functionality and aesthetics for a personalized coffee experience.
